

GOES OUT TO THE GROUNDS

Superintendent Simpson Ready to Begin Installation of Exposition Exhibits.

SPACE IN MAIN BUILDINGS ALL TAKEN

Commissioner Umsted Reaches San Francisco on His Return from Hawaiian Islands—Wires that He Has Secured Great Exhibit.

In order to be in closer touch with the work of the exposition Superintendent Simpson of the Department of Exhibits will transfer his office to the grounds today, where he will remain until the close of the show.

Up to this time 110,000 feet of space has been contracted for, with a number of big deals still under consideration, and when approved, will be closed during the coming week.

Of the space taken fifty 25,000 feet will be occupied by live exhibits, one of which will attract considerable attention. It is that of a milling company from Chambersburg, Pa.

The exhibition has closed a contract with a Chicago refrigerating company for the installation of one of its big plants. This company will show the plan of manufacturing ice and also of chilling air in cooling rooms.

Exhibit from Hawaiian Islands.

Special Commissioner Umsted, who went to the Hawaiian Islands for the purpose of interesting the people there and working up an exhibit, has reached San Francisco on his return, and has wired President Miller that he is well satisfied with the results of his trip.

RATES FOR THE EXPOSITION.

Passenger Agents at Kansas City Agree Upon a Schedule.

The Kansas City meeting of western passenger officials adopted a schedule of rates for the greater America Exposition this summer as follows:

From points from which the one-way standard rate is $7.50 or less, tickets will be sold for 80 per cent of double local, return limit ten days.

From points east of the Missouri river, from points from which the regular one-way rate is $4.50 or less, tickets will be sold Tuesday of each week, for one fare plus 5 per cent, return limit seven days.

From points east of the Missouri river, from which the regular one-way fare is $4.50 or less, week-end tickets will be sold every Saturday and Sunday until 1 p. m. for half rates, good for return up to and including Monday.

For bands in uniform and militia companies within the same territory, 1 cent per mile.

West of the Missouri river, same rates, i. e., one fare plus 5 per cent, where the regular fare is $4.50 or less.

Next week the question of freight rates for exhibits for the exposition will be settled at the same place.

Northwestern Elects Officers.

At the recent meeting of the directors of the Northwestern road H. R. McCullough, vice president of the road, was selected vice president of the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley M. M. Kirkman, who has held the position of second vice president of the Northwestern, will continue in the capacity of treasurer of the Elkhorn.

At the recent meeting of the directors of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha, will be held at St. Paul, Minn., June 3.

The directors of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha, will be held at St. Paul, Minn., June 3.

Missouri Pacific Advances Rates.

The Missouri Pacific announces a restoration of the normal basis of rates to the Mississippi valley south of Memphis on grain and grain products, effective June 17.

Railway Notes and Personalities.

S. A. Hutchinson, assistant general passenger agent of the Union Pacific, has returned to the city.

Southern Indiana Bishop

Dean Fair Says He is Not a Candidate for that or Any Other Position.

When questioned concerning a report from Lincoln that he had been tendered the position of bishop of the South Indiana diocese Dean Campbell Fair said that he was unaware of any such action on the part of the members of the diocesan council.

"I desire it to be understood that in no sense am I a candidate for the position of bishop or any other, being devotedly happy and successful in my work in Trinity cathedral. What my friends may be doing I know not. If they have suggested my name, as they have perfect liberty to do, it has been without throwing any responsibility upon me or my action in the matter."

Dean Fair said further that he was at a loss to understand from whence came the report, as he had seen a list of the names of the gentlemen mentioned in connection with the position of bishop in a newspaper, but his name was not included among them.

Four young ladies, who earn their own living, will take vacations at The Bee's expense. Help your friends by saving coupons.

background and the Sampson and Schley fleet in the front.

The picture will be as arranged that Cervera's ships will sail on around the point, north by Hobson, and then make a dash for the open water.

Just at this critical moment the American boats will open fire and then will begin the chase, during which Cervera's vessels will be beached on the shores of the lake or totally destroyed.

In addition to the foregoing battles, that at Manila will be portrayed. It will show Dewey's fleet destroying the pride of the Spanish navy and the subsequent bombardment of the town.

In putting on these spectacular performances from 300 to 400 men will be employed, all of whom, it is said, will be correctly uniformed in order that the battles may be as realistic as possible.

STRIKE OF TERMINAL MEN

General Manager Webster Says Six Men Quit Because They Wanted Their Money to Spend.

The reported strike of employees of the Omaha Bridge and Terminal company yesterday appears to have been premature, as none of the men have left except for one day, as it was too wet for them to work.

Six construction men applied to General Manager Webster for their time, as they said they were going to quit. They were told they could have it if they really intended to leave the service of the company.

They did not appear very eager after this, so did not take their time checks. Mr. Webster said in reference to the quitting of these men:

"It has been the custom of the company to pay its regular employees twice a month. Construction employees are paid on the 15th and 25th, because they usually require the use of their money. When men leave the service of the company they are paid for all the time they have worked, as there is no lack of funds. A short time ago we employed a new timekeeper. Since then the men have been going to him and obtaining money any time in the month. They would tell him they intended to quit and wanted their time. He would give them a check. Then they would come to town and spend their money in drink and return in a few days to their work. I found this out and yesterday when these men applied for their pay I told them they would have to wait until the regular pay day, next Saturday. I believe they wanted to come to town and have a good time, as it was raining and they could not work. It is tedious work and no small matter to make up the pay rolls and it is impossible to pay the men more than twice a month, even if we deemed it advisable."

SMYTH DEMANDS IMMEDIATE TRIAL.

In the afternoon Mr. Smyth made a vigorous argument in favor of an immediate trial. He insisted that the motion for continuance was a part of the dilatory tactics of the defense, that the bondsmen were getting rid of their property and preparing to go into bankruptcy, and that it was imperative in the interests of the state that their delay should be permitted.

He declared that the application for an injunction in Lancaster county was the laughing stock of the bar of the state, and this, with some other pleasantries, brought out an indignant retort from Mr. Ransom, who accused the attorney general of insulting him. There was a lively conversation across the table for a few minutes, but it was shut off by the court.

In replying for the bondsmen Mr. Manahan took a few hot shots at the attorney general. He accused Mr. Smyth of being actuated purely by political motives. He declared that he is not trying to take the state, but the one that will win the capital for his party. If the attorney general were actuated less by political motives and his desire to protect a particular bank there would be no difficulty in bringing the case to an issue in the case in Lancaster county, said he. In the opinion of the attorney general nothing was to be gained politically by pushing the suit against a national bank, but he did see political prestige in pushing the action against the bondsmen of a defaulting state treasurer of the opposite political party, who is now in the penitentiary.

Mr. Bartlett spoke briefly in behalf of the bondsmen whom he represents and urged that the showing in support of a continuance was ample and that this was the only question before the court.

DATE SET FOR TRIAL.

After a short consultation Judge Keyser announced that Judge Fawcett agreed with him that the motion for a continuance should be overruled and that the case should be called for trial next Thursday. It appeared that each side might be represented by counsel and while it might be desirable to have General Cowin present it was not essential. He stated that the court had been frequently assured during the last week or two that General Cowin would return by June 10 and in that case the other counsel were amply able to empanel a jury. There was little question but that the chief counsel would be back in time to conduct the actual trial of the case.

IN LOVE WITH HIS HIRED GIRL.

James W. Rodman is charmed with Buxom Freda Weymuller. That the morals of James W. Rodman were ruined by a farm is the somewhat unusual story that is set forth in a petition for divorce now pending in the district court. According to the report of the petitioner, Rodman was a faithful and satisfactory husband among all the temptations of the city, but when they moved on a farm he succumbed to the fascinations of a kitchen maid whose exuberant charms won him from his wife.

The petition states that the parties were married in Alliance, O., in 1887, and during the next five years they lived happily in that city and Toledo. Then Rodman's health failed and they decided to go to a farm, in the hope that the country life would restore his energies. They bought a farm in Sanborn county, South Dakota, and for a time their object seemed to be attained.

At the same time he acquired a passion for Freda Weymuller, a hired girl, who had been hired to assist Mrs. Rodman with the household. In a few months his preference became so evident that the hired girl was the practical head of the establishment. Rodman refused to eat any of his wife's cooking, but insisted that every dish should be prepared by his new flame. Further, Mrs. Rodman declares, he frequently hugged and kissed Freda in her presence, and taunted her because she lacked the voluptuous charms with which nature had endowed her rival. The situation became unbearable and Mrs. Rodman went home to her parents, who now reside in Omaha. She now applies for a divorce on the ground of abuse and infidelity.

GO TO A HIGHER COURT.

Annie Brown and Mrs. Holmes waived examination on the charge of the larceny of $25 from the person of Chris Christenson and were bound over to the district court. The robbery occurred near the Webster street depot. The women returned $45 of the money to Christenson before they were arrested.

MINOR MATTERS IN COURT.

William Preston and William Hinman, charged with selling liquor to Indians, have been convicted in United States court and each sentenced to sixty days in the county jail and fined $100 and costs.

Yesterday afternoon, after having been convicted of selling liquor to Indians, William Preston and William Hinman were sentenced to sixty days in the county jail and fined $100 and costs and serve thirty days in the county jail, the imprisonment to be suspended upon the payment of $100.

In the case of Joseph Goldsmith against the Thuringer insurance company, acting

CASE OF BARTLEY BONDSMEN

Motion for Continuance, After Vigorous Argument, is Overruled.

TRIAL BEGINS THURSDAY BEFORE KEYSOR

Opposing Counsel Have Rather a Lively Tilt—All the Bondsmen Are Represented by Their Attorneys.

The third trial of the case of the State against the official bondsmen of Joseph S. Bartley will be called before Judge Keyser next Thursday morning. This was decided late yesterday afternoon after a day of vigorous argument in which counsel for nearly all the defendants participated.

This apparently disposed of the question of the suit against the Omaha National bank or that against the Bartley bondsmen shall be pushed first. The state is endeavoring to collect the $200,000 that was deposited in the bank and drawn out on a warrant that has since proved to be illegal. The Bartley bondsmen have contended that the state should endeavor to collect from the bank first, and that is the basis of the injunction proceedings still pending in the district court of Lancaster county.

Attorney General Smyth insisted on forcing the case against the bondsmen to trial, and he has succeeded in having the motion of opposing counsel for a continuance overruled.

The attorney general appeared before Judge Keyser yesterday morning and, after stating the proceedings that had previously occurred before Judge Powell, he presented a motion that the case should be tried at once. In reply to this the defendants submitted a stack of affidavits in support of a motion for a continuance, which they endeavored to have considered, as an answer to the request of the attorney general. The court refused to allow this, and as Mr. Smyth wanted time to examine the affidavits, if a motion for a continuance was to be argued, the case was passed for an hour to his request.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

Just before noon the attorneys appeared a second time and Judge Keyser called Judge Fawcett to sit with him on the application. Attorney Ransom read the affidavits presented by the defense. These contended that there is an injunction from the district court of Lancaster county, which should prevent any action on the case, and that the chief counsel, General Cowin, is out of the city and cannot possibly be back in time to participate in a trial at this time. At this point an adjournment was taken to 2:30 o'clock.

CONDUCT OF A CITY COURT

Record of Police Judge Gordon During the Month of May.

MADE OVER SEVEN HUNDRED CONTINUANCES

Convictions Were Few, Numbering Only Fifty-Five, While Over Three Hundred and Fifty Were Dismissed by Magistrate.

At the request of the city officials Court Officer J. D. A. Johnson has formulated an interesting report which gives a brief history of the work of the police court during the month of May. According to the figures presented by the officer 726 cases, or an average of twenty-seven per day, were continued by Judge Gordon during the month. Of the cases filed 593 were against men and 132 against women. Fifty-five convictions were recorded and 357 dismissals. The number of cases on file and awaiting disposition through continuances at the close of the month was 100.

Continuing on this line the court officer says: "The above facts are the result of two things: First, when the prisoners are brought before the court the city prosecutor is engaged in filing complaints and has no time to represent the state. In a court disposed to give all that is asked for by the defendant it leaves the state's interest to do the best it can. Five or six petty offenders rush up before the court without restraint, are granted continuances and accepted on bonds without any objection on the part of the state.

"Second, on the trial day these defendants, many of them, fail to appear and our officers make a trip to police court without result as the petitioner appears and takes another continuance for his client. When the officers are in this manner tired out it is necessary to have these complaints dismissed in order to keep a record of them. They are entered by the clerk 'dismissed for want of prosecution,' which makes up a part of the court's good record.

"In felony cases this month there have been nineteen cases tried and eleven of them convicted, which seems to be the result of vigorous prosecution in these trials.

"Allow me to suggest that additional counsel would be of great benefit to our department, for when we are confronted with a court where our evidence must be carried pure and where the defendant is entitled to the benefit of the doubt, which can originate in the court's mind, it is necessary to have counsel there who can stand in all the points in the state's favor."

"His Visit Came High. While returning from Missouri to his home in Whiting, Ia., J. G. Hamlin concluded he would stop over in Omaha and get him a suit of clothes. He met a friend and in their wanderings about town they stopped in a Dodge street house a few minutes. When they departed Hamlin discovered that he had been robbed of $15, as he reported the loss to the police. They arrested Jessie Carter, a colored woman. The money was recovered and Hamlin says he can identify it by the peculiar way in which it was folded.

to put up $150 bond, he will spend the intervening time in jail.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Judge and Mrs. J. W. Dewesee of Lincoln are guests of the Millard.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Griffin of Tekamah will be in the city over Sunday.

H. E. Owen, railroad contractor of Norfolk, was in town yesterday.

Colonel L. A. Hamlin, a prominent California ranchman, is in the city.

Samuel Long, a well known South Bend implement man, is in the city.

C. C. Holden of Thompson, Belknap & Co., has gone to New York on business.

James Feagins, a prominent stockman from Alliance, was in town Saturday.

R. W. Laffer, a prominent business man of Wymore, was in the city Saturday.

Clay B. Whitford and Greeley W. Whitford of Denver are in the city on business.

O. F. Redshaw, commission merchant of Hamburg, was in the city on business Saturday.

W. C. Irvine, a prominent Wyoming stock grower, is a guest of one of the leading hotels.

Hugh Ervin of Chicago, auditor for Armour & Co., was among the Millard's guests Saturday.

D. J. Simpson of Chicago, general purchasing agent for Armour & Co., was a guest of the Millard Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Eckstein of Chicago, on a wedding trip to the Pacific coast, are visiting for a few days in the city.

Mrs. Carrie Busse of Chicago, mother of George A. Busse of the Armour Packing company, is visiting in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gals of Boston, having an engagement to file at the Creighton next week, are guests of a downtown hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Kountze have returned from New York. Mr. Kountze came west immediately upon landing from a transatlantic steamer at that port.

Major Brad D. Slaughter, additional paymaster, United States volunteers, has reported at army headquarters in this city and has been assigned to duty in this department, with headquarters in Omaha.

Nebraskans at the hotel: W. F. Critchfield, Pullerton; J. N. E. White, New York; H. P. Dowling, North Bend; J. C. Perkins, Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. James H. Faris, Calhoun; M. H. Blumett, Harrison; Robert B. Beer, Strasburg.

Mr. Bradish, who was recently manager of the Davenport Rubber Tire Wheel company, where he made many friends by his honorable and successful management, has moved his family to Omaha and will reside at 212 South Twenty-fifth street.

At the Millard: E. E. Edwards, New York; Fred Peckham, Chicago; O. R. Mackay, Deadwood; A. G. Archer and wife, Boston; C. H. Gaston, New York; T. K. Creighton, Jackson; C. A. Robert, Kansas City; Lee L. Potter, Pullerton; J. N. E. White, New York; C. W. Harvey, Los Angeles; J. C. Perkins, Chicago; J. E. Ellis, Dayton; E. J. Blake, Chicago; J. C. Brown, New York.

At the Her Grand: Frederick Peace, Meriden; Thomas H. Thorpe, I. M. Allen and wife, B. P. Angell, Chicago; Edwin Lampher, Olga Lampher, Schuyler; J. A. Shaw, New York; Francis C. Healy, Jr., Boston; C. W. Harvey, Los Angeles; J. C. Perkins, Chicago; J. E. Ellis, Dayton; E. J. Blake, Chicago; J. C. Brown, New York.

At the Her Grand: Frederick Peace, Meriden; Thomas H. Thorpe, I. M. Allen and wife, B. P. Angell, Chicago; Edwin Lampher, Olga Lampher, Schuyler; J. A. Shaw, New York; Francis C. Healy, Jr., Boston; C. W. Harvey, Los Angeles; J. C. Perkins, Chicago; J. E. Ellis, Dayton; E. J. Blake, Chicago; J. C. Brown, New York.

At the Her Grand: Frederick Peace, Meriden; Thomas H. Thorpe, I. M. Allen and wife, B. P. Angell, Chicago; Edwin Lampher, Olga Lampher, Schuyler; J. A. Shaw, New York; Francis C. Healy, Jr., Boston; C. W. Harvey, Los Angeles; J. C. Perkins, Chicago; J. E. Ellis, Dayton; E. J. Blake, Chicago; J. C. Brown, New York.

At the Her Grand: Frederick Peace, Meriden; Thomas H. Thorpe, I. M. Allen and wife, B. P. Angell, Chicago; Edwin Lampher, Olga Lampher, Schuyler; J. A. Shaw, New York; Francis C. Healy, Jr., Boston; C. W. Harvey, Los Angeles; J. C. Perkins, Chicago; J. E. Ellis, Dayton; E. J. Blake, Chicago; J. C. Brown, New York.

At the Her Grand: Frederick Peace, Meriden; Thomas H. Thorpe, I. M. Allen and wife, B. P. Angell, Chicago; Edwin Lampher, Olga Lampher, Schuyler; J. A. Shaw, New York; Francis C. Healy, Jr., Boston; C. W. Harvey, Los Angeles; J. C. Perkins, Chicago; J. E. Ellis, Dayton; E. J. Blake, Chicago; J. C. Brown, New York.

At the Her Grand: Frederick Peace, Meriden; Thomas H. Thorpe, I. M. Allen and wife, B. P. Angell, Chicago; Edwin Lampher, Olga Lampher, Schuyler; J. A. Shaw, New York; Francis C. Healy, Jr., Boston; C. W. Harvey, Los Angeles; J. C. Perkins, Chicago; J. E. Ellis, Dayton; E. J. Blake, Chicago; J. C. Brown, New York.

At the Her Grand: Frederick Peace, Meriden; Thomas H. Thorpe, I. M. Allen and wife, B. P. Angell, Chicago; Edwin Lampher, Olga Lampher, Schuyler; J. A. Shaw, New York; Francis C. Healy, Jr., Boston; C. W. Harvey, Los Angeles; J. C. Perkins, Chicago; J. E. Ellis, Dayton; E. J. Blake, Chicago; J. C. Brown, New York.

At the Her Grand: Frederick Peace, Meriden; Thomas H. Thorpe, I. M. Allen and wife, B. P. Angell, Chicago; Edwin Lampher, Olga Lampher, Schuyler; J. A. Shaw, New York; Francis C. Healy, Jr., Boston; C. W. Harvey, Los Angeles; J. C. Perkins, Chicago; J. E. Ellis, Dayton; E. J. Blake, Chicago; J. C. Brown, New York.

At the Her Grand: Frederick Peace, Meriden; Thomas H. Thorpe, I. M. Allen and wife, B. P. Angell, Chicago; Edwin Lampher, Olga Lampher, Schuyler; J. A. Shaw, New York; Francis C. Healy, Jr., Boston; C. W. Harvey, Los Angeles; J. C. Perkins, Chicago; J. E. Ellis, Dayton; E. J. Blake, Chicago; J. C. Brown, New York.

At the Her Grand: Frederick Peace, Meriden; Thomas H. Thorpe, I. M. Allen and wife,